

Hunter Spyder because ...

Why a Hunter motorcycle ?

You need to stretch out on your bike like the road stretches out in front of you

You believe a vacation starts the moment you get on the road

You get to an intersection and flip a coin

Your adventure, thirst and hunger determines the next stop

You remember where you slept last night but not her name

You get home when you want to

You don't give a damn how the jappas do it

You don't conform - they always told you, they were right
... your Hunter is waiting at your dealer now - where you take it is only your business

Your choice ...
